
Every point is an upper bound on the converged value of the committed polygonal geometry.